Will of Philip Somerville 13th December 1816

Philip Somerville of Plymouth Dock, Devon, Esq., a Post Captain in HM Royal Navy.

Trustees: Wife Rosanna Byron Somerville
James Litle of Plymouth Dock, a surgeon in the Royal Navy
John Erskine Risk of Saltash in Cornwall, Doctor of Medicine

Executrix: Wife Rosanna Byron Somerville

Bequests:

1. To grandson Philip Somerville, relict of his late son Wm Hugh S., deceased (now residing with my wife's brother John Connor Field of Adderbury Park in Oxfordshire) — debt of £300 owed to him from John Connor Field on security of promissory note, plus interest. Appoints JCF as trustee for PS in case he is still a minor, to use as much as necessary for his maintenance and education and then to pay the £300 (or residue) on him reaching 21. If PS dies before 21, the £300 is to be given to JCF.
2. To son John Somerville, Lieutenant in HM Navy
 - freehold messuage outhouses garden stable and hereditaments in Tamerton Foliott, late in possession of Peter Budd (bankrupt). To JS and his heirs and assigns.
 - a leasehold dwelling house, no 71 George Street, Plymouth Dock, occupied by Mr Davis, house carpenter, to hold during his term and interest therein, subject to rents, conditions etc owed to the Lord of the Manor of Stoke Damerel, and also subject to an annuity chargeable to Mrs Elizabeth Grigg of Youghall in Ireland
 - the household furniture and effects at the house in Tamerton Foliott and the library of books which may be at Plymouth Dock, Tamerton Foliott or elsewhere
3. To son George Field Somerville — £1000 stock in Consolidated Annuities, in lieu of an annuity of £30 secured at George Somerville's marriage with Mary Hodge. To be transferred one year after testator's death.
4. To James Litle and his wife Mary — £1000 stock, in lieu of claims which may be made by James Litle and Mary in respect of £250 (balance remaining on £1000 promised on their marriage), and in respect of interest on the £1000.
5. To daughter Rosina Young Somerville — £1500 stock, to be transferred one year after death of the testator.
6. To wife Rosanna Byron Somerville and other trustees — £1500 stock, to be transferred after one year — upon trust for his daughter Rosina Young. Dividends to be paid to her during her life for her own use. Stock to be held by the trustees, after Rosina's death, in trust for the beneficiaries nominated in Rosina's will, or to her heirs.
7. To son James Bowen Somerville, a midshipman in the Royal Navy
 - £2000 stock, to be transferred after one year
 - Leasehold dwelling house, 86 Duke Street, Plymouth Dock, occupied by Henry Denham, grocer, for all the estate and interest therein subject to rents etc.
 - Premises and money to go to trustees during his minority. Dividends to be used for maintenance and education.
 - Should he die under age of 21, bequeaths the stock and house to all his living children equally, as tenants in common.
8. To daughter Sarah Frances Field — £1500 stock, plus £1500 to the trustees upon trust as above. Trustees to pay maintenance etc while under age.

Residue to go to his wife unless she remarries. If she remarries, residue to go to living children in equal shares. Dividends in first year after decease to form part of residuary estate.

Administration granted to Rosanna Byron Somerville.

Remaining administration granted (27th May 1858) to James Byron Somerville, administrator of Rosanna Byron Somerville's estate (George Field Somerville having been Rosanna's surviving executor, who had died and left a will but no executor).

Will of Hugh Somerville 12th July 1816

Will of Hugh Somerville, Purser in the Royal Navy belonging to His Majesty's Ship the Queen Charlotte, lying in harbour at Portsmouth.

Sole executrix: his daughter Elizabeth Somerville

Bequests: To his daughters Elizabeth, Dorothea and Diana: all his estate and "monies secured either in the Public Fund of the three per Cents Consols and five per Cents Navy or elsewhere" to be equally divided between them. If they are not able to divide the inheritance satisfactorily among themselves they should appoint two friends to assist "but I strongly recommend them to settle the same in an Affectionate way in preference to calling in" such assistance.

Addition made 20th August 1816 at sea

Wishes the expenses of his funeral to be met from his estate, for the funeral to be "both plain & quiet with every Aeconomy", and if circumstances permit to be "laid in the Vault at Alverstoke with my long beloved but departed wife". Mentions that his property "is but small". If any of the three daughters is married at the time of his death, the property (funds, furniture, plate, china, glass and paintings) is to be divided between the unmarried since the married will have a provider and protector. If all are married, the property is to be shared equally between them. If a married daughter dies leaving a child or children before the division of the property, the child or children shall receive the mother's share. Mentions houses and land and reiterates main provisions of the 12th July will.

FEUDAL AIDS 1284-1431 (West Country Studies Library)

On 25th March 1428 the Commons made a grant to the King of tonnage and poundage, and also laid a tax on parishes and towns throughout England, graduated in proportion to the sums at which their respective churches were taxed for ecclesiastical tithes (tenths). When the value of the church was under ten marks the parish was assessed at 6s 8d and so on in proportion. There was also a levy of 6s 8d on every knight's fee in England (except lands assessed at under a quarter of a knight's fee). This is a tax record, arranged by county and then by hundred.

DEVON MUSTER ROLL FOR 1569, ed. A.J. Howard & T.L. Stoate (Indexed. Copy at Society of Genealogists)

Each year on a particular day able-bodied men assembled so that the number of fighting men could be counted and the state of their weapons assessed.

The entries follow a common pattern for each parish. First are given the 'Presenters sworn', about four of the most prominent men in the parish. Their names are followed by, 'who do presente (as aforesaid)...' and a list of main officers, often the same names as the presenters, with a list of their arms. 'The inhabitants not particularie chardged are accessed to fynde and maynteyn ...' (a further list of items, eg one caliver, one murrion). Then are given 'the names of all thabell menne within the said parish of ... mustered'. These are listed as archers, harquebusiers, pikemen and billmen.

'...The late Lord Somerville purchased a farm in this parish, near the River Lyn, and made some additions to the house for his occasional residence; it is now the property of his son, the present Lord, but is about to be sold.'

p.467

'The manor of Swimbridge belongs to the Duke of Bedford. Ernsborough gave name to a family who possessed that manor at an early period. They were succeeded by the Flavells, whose heiress brought it to Sir John Mules, a younger son of the Lord Mules, and it continued in his family for several generations. One of the co-heiresses of the last Sir John Mules brought it to Dabernon, and the heiress of Dabernon to Gifford (Westcote).

In 1773, it was the joint property of Mr Lewis Somerville and William Berry, Esq., of West Buckland. This estate has been for some time in the family of Hole, and is now the property of Henry Hole, Esq., of Eberby.'
